REQUIRED EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

After the review of goals objectives and outcome expectations of Triumph Gulf Coast Fund Roderwill presents viable strategic cost-effective solutions. The valid senior level skills provide a vision of functional and operational concepts in many phases of expansion. Acknowledging priorities of each aviation project centers around achieving aircraft functional capability, their maintenance scheduling and precision in outcome. With the scale of expansion across Northwest Florida these priorities demands establishing working correlation and communication among multi-level teams, vendors, managers and other stakeholders. Operating as a freelance and cognitive in establishment of these principles is crucial through expansion duration. Roderwill program offers many contributions for successful outcomes:

- Prepare/ design appropriate Use Case Diagrams, Workflow Diagrams, all important relationship Venn Diagrams, analytic reports and other strategic graphics for a pictorial roadmap to solution.
- Developing reviews identifying risk based on technology application and alignment with operational requirements.
- Evaluating operations identifying areas for potential improvement analytic review identifying appropriate software for improving efficiency.
- In aviation precision in every operational task is a priority and Roderwill offers thorough analytic review identifying key factors in creating and maintaining Knowledge Management system
- Assist in establishing operational and performance metrics

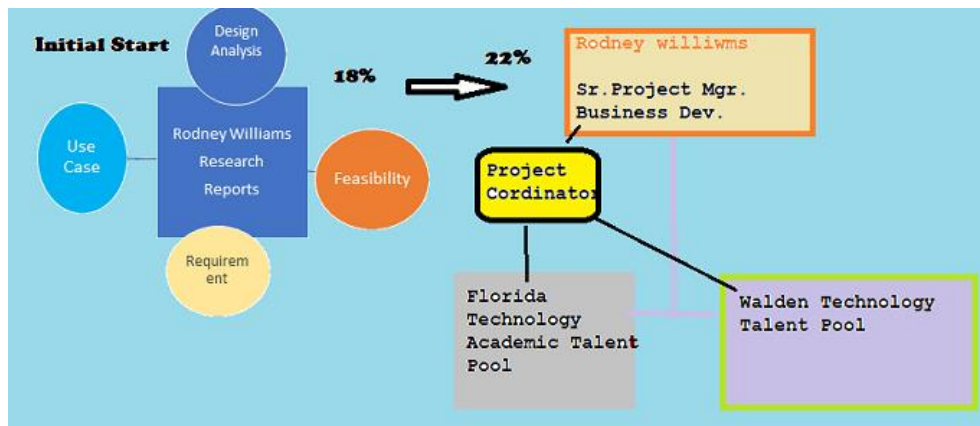

The reward in applying and implementing these supportive measures promote success:

- Increases operational efficiency optimization of functional and business operations.
- Business continuity managing risk in personnel, equipment and appropriate involvement of specialty personnel contracting
- These measures are extremely beneficial in visioning continuous improvement.
Application of these measures also create employee commitment and engagement

FUTURE GROWTH

With the financial foundation of TGCF and Military presence in Northwest Florida there is a great market for quality and reliable consistent with Roderwill Consulting anticipated growth. At the core of TGCF is desire in making regional individuals lives better. As the founder of Roderwill Consulting, my concept is defined by Denzel Washington and the slogan of Walden University. D,W Each one teach one. Walden University Education for The Good.

In summary success in any terminology is to be shared giving others the opportunity to achieve. The illustration below indicates with Roderwill growth/GR the arrangements to contract specialized Technology talent from Florida University and alma mater Walden University

Even as Roderwill's focus is highly profitably Defense operations its foundational start requires estimated $3715.00. In having a disability in mobility collaboration with VR Area Director Monique Gulveston confirmed once I have Florida residency no waiting period for most VR services. The essential I am seeking is Proof of Income in which with residency and VR services this minor.
